THE SHAMS. WON.

But the Regulars Gave Them a Hard Tussle in Tuesday's Game.

It Was Close and Exciting From Beginning to Finish. The Score Ten to Eight.

When the Regulars arranged for a game with the Shamrocks, Cincinnati's crack amateur team, they expected to play the Shamrocks.

When they faced the visitors Tuesday afternoon, however, they found themselves pitted against a team composed of four of the Shamrock's men and five crack players from other clubs. Johnson, the Captain and crack pitcher of the Cornell University team, was in the left field, Montfort, Centre College's brag first baseman, played that position for the Shamrocks, and there were two men from the Atlanta team, late of the Southern League.

But the Regulars gave the visitors a hard tussle all the same, losing the game by only two runs. Their base running, and fielding, however, were not what it ought to have been. Brunner, who played left field, hurt himself in the fifth inning, at a critical stage of the game, while running a base, and had it not been for this accident, the home boys would no doubt have made a better showing.

The Shamrocks came here with the expectation of having a walk-over, but the game had not progressed very far before they found they had made a great big mistake. They had an up-hill fight all the way.

Stephens was in the box for the visitors and was hit hard. Many a hit was made by the locals that looked safe but by the sharp fielding was pulled down. Welner twirled for Maysville and at critical times did good work. He struck out eight men, while Stephens struck out but one. Following is a summary of the game:

SHORT STOPS.

The Victors of Ironton will probably be here next Friday and Saturday, for two games.

Hill, Cox and Wadsworth had on their batting costumes Tuesday, and Cox caught the crowd by his base running.

A rough play made by the Shamrocks' catcher in the fifth inning came near causing a big row. Wadsworth was trying to reach home. The ball was fielded to the catcher who got it just in time. He struck Wadsworth viciously. The latter in his anger over the blow made for Stearns. A big strapping fellow who was with the Shamrocks, but who did not belong to the team, ran at Wadsworth, and the next instant all was confusion and excitement. Wadsworth's friends swarmed about the trio and there was a rush from the grand stand.

Fortunately some of the cooler-heads soon restored order. Stearns afterwards apologized for his actions, and the game ended with everybody in a good humor. The Shamrocks greatly regretted the little unpleasantness.

For Oligo-Nunk, the Wonderful Caverns in Carter County.

The Next Grand Excursion Will Be Run Sunday—Fare Only $1.50 Round Trip.

The C. and O.'s next grand excursion to Oligo-Nunk, (the place of caves), will be run next Sunday under the auspices of the EVENING BULLETIN. The train will leave Maysville at 8 a. m. and arrive at Oligo-Nunk at 10:30 a. m. Returning the train will leave the caves at 7:30 p. m.

Only, 1.50 for the round trip, which includes admission to the caves and pay of guides.

These lately discovered and wonderful caverns are situated in the heart of the Honeycomb Mountains, Carter County, containing countless chambers, grand domes and a myriad of avenues. Some of the many notable features of these caverns, which consist of four distinct caves, are "The Counterfeiters' Den," "The Ship Yard," "Pluto's Bath Tub," "The Vineyard," "The Secret Chamber," "Lover's Retreat," "Fat Man's Misery," "The Four-Story Canyon," "Kelly's Slide," "The Joss House," "The Canyon," "Fishing Worm's Race Track," and countless other wonderful formations are to be seen in the very bowels of the earth.

Thousands of years have elapsed in the formation of a single stalactite in which these caverns abound, making this a sight of a life time.

Cliffs over 1,000 feet high, overlooking nature's wonderful panorama. Beautiful groves containing an immense pavilion for dancing, first-class restaurant with unequalled service, and every facility looking toward the comfort of guests can be found on the grounds, thus assuring a pleasant day's outing.

A well trained corps of guides will be in attendance, and will conduct you safely through all portions of the caves, showing you all the wonders and points of interest, without extra charge.

Don't miss it. Tickets now on sale at Nelson's hat store.
